The Alabama legislature is finally taking steps to insure continued flow of federal highway funds. The feds decreed we couldn't continue getting the funds unless the drinking age was raised to 21, and finally the Alabama lawmakers are getting around to doing just that. We don't think it will stop one single person from drinking, but there is a chance. We also agree the current 19- and 20-year-old young folks should be "grandfathered in", and if it is legal for them to drink the day before the law changes, they should not be suddenly removed, since they will again grow into legal age in a year, or not

The fish haven't been cooperating with me lately. All the signs say the bream should be really biting, but some way or another those fish head to parts unknown when my boat comes paddling up. Last week a friend, Pete Dorsey, was telling me about a sure-fire way to catch bream on a fly rod.

It turned out that I tried it years ago when it was explained in a fishing magazine I picked up somewhere or other . . . it didn't work 'cause this was another way for me to get my fly line hung. With a little patience he explained how to prevent this problem (it is so simple), and about dark this weekend I decided to give it a try . . . that late no one could see my mess. Well, it worked! I had three big bream before you could say "jack rabbit". Then I forgot his lesson and got hung up. Since it was already dark, being hung up fly-fishing means quitting time, 'cause it takes more than a cloud-covered moon to re-rig a fly rod. I will be back in a few days.

The weather is warming up and the snakes are crawling. All you need to do is take a drive down the highway or a walk in the woods, and odds are you will see a snake or two. This means we need to be more careful every time we are out, unless we want to challenge those old snakes to a biting duel.

CBS Inc. leaders have rejected the offer by Ted Turner of Turner Broadcasting, Atlanta, to buy the network, radio and TV stations. The official reason was that the offer is "grossly inadequate". However, the head of CBS was howling even before Turner made his offer, so it was no surprise when an official statement was released. We don't know if the offer is good or bad, but TV entertainment can't get much worse in our thinking; is well known by many. It was a day but then we aren't overly worried about the content of the CBS news broadcasts either.

The flap over just where President Reagan will visit when he goes to Germany continues to fester. We agree with some analyses that the President has had some bad advice in planning the trip, but it ain't all bad. While we are not president or even important, we have visited some of those military cemeteries and undoubtedly there were former SS troops buried there. We have also walked through the death camp at Dachau, and if you try to think about all the suffering that took place there, it can be a very unnerving visit. However, I personally see nothing wrong with the leader of the concerned country visiting these places, assuming he doesn't act disrespectfully against those who died at either place, nor to any others.

The U.S. Congress is avoiding any action on military retirement changes. It must be a politically hot potato because most legislators acknowledge the cost is high and rising. We have read some of the proposals being batted around to cut the cost, and have mixed emotions about taking any action, even though we ain't elected officials and we ain't eligible for military retirement. Whatever action is taken, those already retired and those "over the hump" towards retirement should be afforded the courtesy of the country's living up to a promise made back when a young man or woman was making a decision on a stalk and hung up, or out in for a military career.

Coca Cola announced this week that the formula for mixing the world-renowned drink would change. We were hearing complaints even before the announcement was made official. Some folks were grumbling that it was going to be entirely too sweet, etc. Well, we don't know and probably will not lose a lot of sleep over the change, but would like to help them advertise the new taste. Other than that, our life will go on as usual.

Florida is considering easing the requirements for high school graduation, and Alabama is about to lower standards for teacher certification. We don't like either proposal. We think Florida should hold the standards, and if something else is needed to get the students out of school, add another level for those who can't make it under the present setup. Don't penalize those who do achieve by lowering their achievable standards. The Alabama teachers who can't pass a simple test don't need to be teaching, regardless of their an active week with a total of three ESJC Scholarships Continue To Grow race. The fact the majority comes from a historically black school indicates arrests and four traffic tickets the standards in that school need to be raised. We don't know about the logged. The arrests were for mparisons, but feel any comparing (if needed) shouldn't yell race against race until black students in Alabama or Auburn have been compared against while the tickets were for passing in whites from the same school THEN compared against blacks from the so-called black colleges.

The Azalea Garden Club held its monthly meeting at Camp Humming Hills on Wednesday the 10th of April. The day proved to be ideal for the planned activities of the club. Members participated in planting various kinds of shrubs and plants at the resident caretaker's cottage. Trees that were planted on previous Arbor days were beginning to show signs of growth. After the work was completed the group drove to the picnic area by the lake. Mrs. Walter Cox and Mrs. Bruno They had a large table set up under the trees and ready for the picnic Mr. Drew Vaughan lunches brought by the members. Rest, relaxation and good eating Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mullins were enjoyed by all.

The Elba Tiger baseball team split a pair of Area 3 games last week to Daleville and Pike County and now own a 3-3 record with two weeks left in the season. The Tigers looked good in the win over Daleville and hit the ball well against Pike County, but made a couple of big errors in the Pike County game that allowed the Bulldogs to blow the game wide open. Elba's got seven tough games left, including Pike County, Opp, Andalusia, Daleville, Straughn (2) and Luverne, and the Tigers will have to show a lot of determination and pride to claim enough wins to post a winning record. C'mon, guys, I know you've got what it takes!

The city's summer recreation program started this week and will pick up speed next week when the youth baseball leagues swing into action. The softball games start at 7:00 at the softball complex, while baseball starts at 6:00 at the Legion Field complex. Go out and watch a game tonight - you just the Tigers would open the 1985 football season on Friday, August 30, at home against U.M.S. of Mobile. The game gives Elba a total of nine games, including five at home, and a 10th game is a possibility.

By the way, former Elba coach Mac Champion coaches at U.M.S., and last season the team made it to state before losing to eventual 4A champ T.R. Miller. It looks like a tough opener!

I enjoy attending athletic banquets, but this spring I've missed banquets at Kinston, New Brockton and Zion Chapel because of unexpected events or previous obligations. I apologize for my absence and I will make every effort to get pictures of the banquets for use in the paper.

Honesty Is Best Policy According To Students At Zion Chapel

By: Rhonda Senn

"Honesty is the best policy" is a familiar quote of most older people. But it seems that the younger generation feel the same. In a recent survey taken in Coach Mike Lindsey's fourth period health class, honesty was voted number one in characteristics they would look for in selecting a marriage partner. This survey contained only one uestion, "What characteristics would you look for in selecting a marriage partner and what characteristics would you look for in Buy 1 Chicker selecting a date?" The following characteristics are in order Box And Get importance. In selecting a marriage partner he females in the class felt that their uture husband should have the fellowing characteristics: honesty, esponsibility, ideals, trust, job, selfconfidence, and security.
